

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF SCOTTISH NAME STUDIES FOR 2015

SIMON TAYLOR
University of Glasgow

This is the seventh such bibliography in The Journal of Scottish Name Studies (JSNS),¹ the first appearing in JSNS 4 (2010) covering the years 2006–2009, the second in JSNS 5 (2011) covering the year 2010, and so on. It aims to present, in a continuous list arranged alphabetically by author, all relevant articles, chapters in edited books, monographs, CDs, e-books and PhDs (most of which are now available online) which appeared in 2015. This bibliography draws heavily on those which I compile for Scottish Place-Name News (SPNNews),² the excellent twice-yearly newsletter of the Scottish Place-Name Society, which should also be consulted for shorter, often illustrated, articles on a wide range of Scottish toponymic themes.

For more extensive bibliographies of name studies in Britain and Ireland and, less comprehensively, other parts of northern Europe, see the bibliographic sections compiled in the relevant issues of Nomina, the journal of the Society for Name Studies in Britain and Ireland. The latest two available are the 'Bibliography for 2013' (Nomina 37 (2014), 189–211), published 2015, and 'Bibliography for 2014' (Nomina 38 (2015), 143–65), published 2016. The material in these Nomina bibliographies is set out thematically and includes relevant reviews which have appeared in the given year.

I would be very pleased to hear from anyone who spots any omissions or errors in the following bibliography. I can be contacted via the JSNS website or by post c/o Clann Tuirc. Also, I would be glad to receive notice of anything published in 2016 for inclusion in JSNS 11.

In order to make it easier for the reader to find their way around, I have put in bold not only authors' surnames but also some of the key places, persons or elements discussed in the individual entries.
